Independent and Dependent Variables

Changing the independent variable	causes change in the	Dependent variable
The dependent variable depends on the independent variable.

__*x*__ is always the independent variable.

x is the input

__*y*__ is always the dependent variable.

y is the output. What you get out depends on what you put in.